Job Offer

October 6, 2026

Help us turn an ambitious energy project into reality!

AXF Energy is developing a new generation of large-scale advanced bioethanol production, combining biotechnology, renewable energy and highly efficient industrial processes.

Our major objective is the realization of a large-scale production facility in North Africa.
To help drive this, we are looking for an exceptional

Project and Relations Manager (all genders) working full-time from Puerto del Rosario, Fuerteventura, very close to the beach.

Your Role

From the office in Puerto del Rosario, Fuerteventura, you will work closely with AXF Energy's management and our team in Düsseldorf, Germany, while developing and maintaining relationships with ministries, government agencies, investment authorities, regional bodies and other strategic stakeholders in North Africa.

Your responsibilities will include:

- Tracking permitting, administrative and governmental processes and ensuring that projects continue to move forward.
- Acting as a key contact for selected strategic partners, authorities and stakeholders, particularly in Morocco and other North African countries.
- Ensuring that discussions, decisions, documents and next steps are driven forward systematically.
- Coordinating meetings, follow-ups, documentation and negotiations with external stakeholders.
- Representing AXF Energy professionally in meetings with senior external stakeholders.

- Working closely with AXF Energy's management and technical team in Düsseldorf to obtain the information and arguments required for discussions with governments and partners.

Who we are looking for

We are looking for someone who combines structure, intelligence, diplomacy and persuasive communication.

You are likely to succeed in this role if you:

- Are fluent in English and fluent in French and Arabic, written and spoken.
- Are an excellent writer and can formulate convincing arguments with precision.
- Have strong project-management skills and naturally follow topics through until they are resolved.
- Can quickly understand complex technical, economic and regulatory subjects.
- Take ownership rather than waiting for detailed instructions.
- Enjoy working in an entrepreneurial environment where priorities can evolve rapidly.

We would like to get to know you! Please send your application to: hr@axf-energy.com !

AXF Energy is an equal-opportunity employer. We consider applicants on the basis of qualifications, experience and ability to perform the role, without discrimination on grounds including sex, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, racial or ethnic origin, nationality, religion or belief, or any other protected characteristic.